Shakti Fresh Mart

20-Page Synthetic Grocery Store Knowledge Base for RAG Testing

Purpose: a realistic, internally consistent grocery-store corpus for retrieval-augmented generation experiments. The data is synthetic and is not a real store record. Use product codes as stable identifiers when evaluating retrieval.

What the corpus contains

Store profile, product catalog, inventory, pricing, supplier directory, promotions, delivery rules, payment methods, returns and refunds, loyalty rules, staffing, food-safety controls, customer-service procedures, FAQs, and a final set of RAG evaluation questions with exact-answer keys.

RAG design note

Several facts are intentionally distributed across pages. Examples: product SKU -> supplier -> tax rate; product -> stock -> reorder threshold; promotion -> eligible SKUs -> conflict rule; order value -> delivery fee; complaint -> response window. This encourages multi-hop retrieval instead of single-page keyword matching.

Operational principles

Fresh produce is inspected at opening and again at 16:00. Chilled dairy follows FEFO (first-expiry-first-out). Frozen items must remain at or below -18 C in the freezer. Packaged goods are checked for damaged packaging and visible expiry issues during picking.

Important identifiers

Product codes are globally unique within this corpus. Supplier IDs begin with SUP-. Promotion IDs begin with P-. Orders, refunds, and support tickets are described later using separate synthetic IDs. When two records disagree, the most recent dated record or the explicit policy page wins.

10. Pricing Rules and Promotion Matrix

Pricing facts are intentionally separate from product catalog facts so retrieval can combine them.

Pricing rules

The Sell INR field is the current corpus selling price. MRP INR is the printed maximum retail price. Promotional discounts are applied according to the promotion rules below. Unless a promotion says otherwise, discounts do not stack. Taxes in the catalog are represented by GST percentages for test calculations and should not be invented beyond the stated rate.

Promo ID	Name	Offer	Eligible SKUs	Window	Limit	Conflict / Note
P-101	Fresh Friday	15% off select fruits	FRU-001, FRU-003, FRU-004	Friday only	max INR 150/order	Cannot combine with P-104
P-102	Staple Saver	5% off staples above INR 1,500	STA-001, STA-002, STA-003, STA-004, STA-005	Daily	no cap	Applied after item-level markdown
P-103	Dairy Duo	INR 20 off when buying any 2 eligible dairy items	DAI-001, DAI-002, DAI-003	Daily 07:00-12:00	one per customer/day	Butter excluded
P-104	New Member	INR 100 off on first order above INR 1,000	All eligible grocery items	Once per member	INR 100	Requires verified mobile; cannot c
P-105	Free Delivery	Delivery fee waived above INR 699	Local delivery orders	Daily	No product restriction	Does not reduce item total
P-106	Bulk Rice	7% off on 3 or more rice packs	GRA-001, GRA-002	Mon-Sun	3 qualifying packs	Same SKU or mixed rice SKUs

Worked examples

Example A: A cart containing GRA-001 (INR 599) x 3 has a merchandise subtotal of INR 1,797. P-106 applies a 7% discount because there are 3 qualifying rice packs. Example B: A first-time member ordering INR 1,200 of eligible goods can use P-104 for INR 100 off, provided the mobile number is verified and P-101 is not also used. Example C: Delivery becomes free at an order subtotal of INR 699 or more; the free-delivery threshold does not itself change product prices.

Inventory rules

REORDER means on-hand quantity is at or below the reorder point. LOW means on-hand quantity is above the reorder point but at or below 1.5 times the reorder point. OK is above that threshold. For chilled and frozen items, quality controls take precedence over simple stock counts. The stock table is intentionally not a sales forecast.
